DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group II in the reply filed on 5/10/07 is acknowledged.
2. Claims 1-4 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 5/10/07.

With regards to the election of species requirement, it is noted that the requirement was only necessary if Group I was elected. Since Group II was elected, the election of species is now withdrawn.

Information Disclosure Statement

3. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 8/26/05, 5/14/07 and 6/14/07 have been received and made of record. Note the acknowledged form PTO-1449s enclosed herewith.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Art Unit: 3731

5. Claims 5-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US 6,395,014 to Macoviak et al.

As shown in Fig. 16, Macoviak discloses device adapted for placement in a flowpath of a blood vessel, the device comprising a valve means 644 capable of allowing greater antegrade flow than retrograde flow through the vessel; and a filter 642 operative to restrict passage of emboli while allowing blood flow through the vessel; wherein the filter is in the form of an elongated tube; wherein the valve means is a parabolic cone; wherein a catheter 646 extends through the filter; wherein the filter tube has a ring on one side of the tube; and wherein the tube is formed of a mesh like structure, which is being viewed as skeletal members.

Double Patenting

6. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

7. Claims 5-7 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 3 of U.S. Patent No. 6,896,690. For double patenting to exist between the rejected claims and the patented claims, it must be determined that the rejected claims are not patentably distinct from the patented claims. In order to make this determination, it first must be determined whether there are any differences between the rejected claims and the recited patented claims and, if so, whether those differences render the claims patentably distinct.

Claims 5-7 all recite a device having a valve and a filter.

It is clear that all the elements of claims 5-7 are to be found in claims 1 and 3 of the patent. The difference between the claims of the application and the claims of the patent lies in the fact that the patent claim includes additional elements and is thus much more specific. Thus the invention of the claims of the patent is in effect a "species" of the "generic" invention of the claims of the application. It has been held that the generic invention is "anticipated" by the "species". See In re Goodman, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993). Since the claims of the application is anticipated by the claims of the patent, it is not patentably distinct.
